W. S. S. LIMIT CLUB NOW HAS 230 MEMBERS

Mason County Goes Over the Top in War Savings Stamps Drive as
She Has Done in All War
Campaigns.

Mason has scored again. It was, of course, expected that Mason county would do the same thing in her War Savings Stamps campaign that she did in all of her war campaigns since the government began calling on the people.

Chairman William Rees, of the county committee, is yet unable to announce the official total and it will probably be several days before all of the figures will be complete. However, there are enough reports in the hands of the county committee to assure the announcement that Mason county has gone over the top big and still the campaign has not actually closed.

This morning announcement is made of nine new memberships in the Limit Club bringing the total of thousand dollar subscribers in Mason county to 230. The new memberships are held by the following:

Robert N. Brooks.
Mrs. Abner Hord.
Pat Collins.
Dr. W. G. Phillips.
John J. Larkin.
Mrs. Kate Ring.
John Marshall.
Executors of Patsy Dwyer estate.

CHAUTAUQUA IS OPENED WITH GREAT PROGRAM

Many Attend Annual Meeting on First Days—Patriotic Musical Program and Colonel Bain Today.

Maysville's Win the War Chautauqua opened Saturday afternoon with a program by the Welsh Glee Quartette and there was a very good audience to hear them.

The evening program was especially interesting with a prelude by the Welsh Glee Quartette and a lecture on "New Ways of Feeding the World" by Dr. Henry A. Adrian. The lecture was very timely and one of the most interesting ever heard on the subject. It was an agreeable surprise to all who heard it and those who failed to hear it certainly missed one of the big features of the Chautauqua.

Dr. Adrian, through his intimate friendship with Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, is familiar with many new developments in the cultivation of food stuffs. Beginning his lecture with a very vivid description of the fall of an airplane from dizzy heights to within a few feet of the earth when the machine again was righted and mounted into the skies, he captivated his audience and held them spell-bound through the entire talk. He told of the wonderful developments in making the desert plants edible and said that it would not be long before the nation would be using this new way of feeding the populace. His lecture was well worth the price of half the season ticket and yet there are many good things to come.

On Sunday there was an unusually large audience at the park and besides a great classical concert by the Tschalkowsky Quartette, Burnett R. Ford, famous inventor, gave a wonderful lecture and demonstration. Mr. Ford demonstrated some of the wonders of electricity in a most interesting way and his large audience was more than pleased with the entertainment.

It is interesting to know that Mr. Ford is now working on a compass for airplanes, which he expects soon to have perfected. This invention will be turned over to the United States government and will make our air fleet the most efficient in all the world.

The program for today is especially interesting. Ralph Dunbar's Royal Dragons, a singing band, will give a grand patriotic concert this afternoon and, tonight, besides a concert by this famous musical organization, Colonel George W. Bain, of Lexington, Ky., one of the best known orators on the meridian platform, will give one of his popular lectures.

Al Sweet, who directs the Royal Dragons, is one of the country's most famous musicians. For six years he was director of the famous Ringling circus band and later was director of the Edison Orchestra and band. He is also the writer of several popular songs which have made great hits. The local committee announces that they are now only about $100 short of the guarantee and it is certain that this will be made up before the week is closed.

JUNIOR ACTIVITIES

Takes on Much Interest—Junior
Town Organized

Much interest was displayed by the youngsters at the opening of the Junior Chautauqua last Saturday morning. There were about one hundred in attendance and Miss Courtice feels very happy with the prospect for a fine Junior Chautauqua in this city. The youngsters are all very fond of Miss Courtice and we predict one of the best Junior Chautauquas ever held in this city.

At the opening meeting of the "Junior Town" was organized and the following officers elected: Mayor, Roger Caplinger; Town Clerk, Harriet Glascock; Law and Order Committee, Brent Wood, Graham Moses, Dorothy Caplinger, Frances J. Foe, William Bryant; Red Cross Officer, Adelle Thomas; Thrift Officer, William Ellis; Badge Officer, Charles Hutchins.

Much credit is due Miss Hurd for the fine effort she has put forth in an endeavor to have every boy and girl in our city take part in the Junior Chautauqua organization. Medadene W. B. Campbell and C. S. Kirk and the Misses Mary Wilson and Irene Dickson gave Miss Hurd creditable support and are equally responsible for the fine lot of boys and girls in this Junior Chautauqua.

MRS. MARTHA GILLESPIE DIES IN OHIO

Mrs. Martha A. Gillespie, aged 70 years, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Wise, of Bantam, Ohio, June 29, at 7 a. m. Her husband preceded her to the grave thirty-seven years ago. Mrs. Gillespie was a member of the Christian church and during her long illness and suffering which she bore with Christian resignation and fortitude, she had the consolation of an abiding faith in her Redeemer. Her departure from this life will be keenly felt by those nearest her but what is our loss is heaven's gain.

PRICES FIXED FOR THRESHING OF ALL GRAIN

Ten Cents Per Bushel to Be Charged
For Wheat Threshing and 12½
Cents Charged For Rye—Labor
Prices Also Fixed.

One of the best attended and most interesting meetings of Mason county farmers held in Maysville in recent years was that of Saturday afternoon, when at the call of County Food Administrator W. D. Cochran, wheat growers of all thrashers from every precinct of the county gathered at the Courthouse to discuss various problems they will have to face beginning this week when the threshing of the big crop is started.

In several sections of the state of Kentucky, it was stated by Mr. Cochran, there had been difficulties arising between the farmers and the threshers as to the prices charged for the threshing and the wages paid the laborers at the threshing machine and similar meetings had been held at growers' all of the differences were adjusted properly. It had been suggested that such a meeting be held here before the threshing season was begun so that there would be nothing arise to discourage the raising of a large crop of wheat next season.

It was stated by both the farmers and the threshers at the opening of the meeting however, that there was at present no difficulties between them and that there was none expected.

It was thought best, though, to have a thorough understanding before the threshing season opened and a committee consisting of six wheat growers and five threshers was appointed to agree on a reasonable price to be charged for threshing in all parts of the county. Messrs. Charles Rhodes of Helena; Charles Owens, of Lewisburg; William D. Galbraith, of Maysville; Frank Boyd, of Maysville; Paul Durrett and Phillip Gallenstein, of Washington, were appointed on the committee to represent the growers and Messrs. David L. Hunter, John L. Claybrook, James Brannon, James L. Henry Fizer represented the threshers.

The committee retired and in a very few minutes came to an agreement. Last season charges for threshing in Mason county ranged at from 15 to 25 cents a sack but in view of the increased cost of operation it was agreed to charge 10 cents a sack or 10 cents a bushel for threshing wheat and 30 cents a sack or 12½ cents a bushel for threshing rye. It was understood that this price was to be cash as soon as the work was completed and that the farmers who own the threshing machine must haul the water to the threshing machine.

Mr. Cochran called the farmers' attention to the new vagrancy law recently passed by the Kentucky State Legislature and just becoming effective that all able bodied men in the state between the ages of 16 and 60 must do at least 26 hours work a week. Mr. Cochran suggested that the farmers organize themselves into committees in their various precincts and that they report to the county and city officials all those who are not doing a full day's work every day.

The matter of prices for labor at the threshings was then brought up and it was finally decided that the uniform price for the entire county be fixed at $2.50 per day for field men and $3 per day for sack and straw men. Besides this they are to be furnished board during the threshing period.

The amount of time lost in threshing outfits skipping or passing over fields and then backtracking was brought up and thoroughly discussed and it was decided that there would be no skipping but that each man would be permitted to have his entire crop of grain threshed out at the same time even if he had to move the outfit from one field to another and was compelled to pass a crop of grain in transferring from one field to another.

The matter of sacks was discussed at length and it was finally decided that although a serious shortage existed in this section the handling of the sacks to be furnished by the grain dealers will be done in such a manner as to keep plenty of sacks on hand for the farmers at all times.

The matter of screening the grain was left up to the farmer to decide for himself.

REV. WILLIAM DORN FULLY ORDAINED

Beautiful Services Held at the Church of the Nativity Yesterday When Minister is Formally Set Apart.

Rev. William Dorn was fully ordained to the ministry of the Episcopal Church in a beautiful ceremony held at the Church of the Nativity Sunday at which Bishop Lewis W. Burton, of Lexington presided.

The services in connection with the ordination continued throughout the entire day opening at 9:30 a. m. with morning prayer led by the bishop. At 10:45 the ceremony of the Nativity Sunday at which Bishop Lewis W. Burton, of Lexington presided, presented the candidate and Rev. George H. Harris, of Versailles a former pastor of this parish, delivered a wonderful sermon. This was followed by the Litany and then the ordination followed in which Rev. Dorn was vested with license to preach and the Deacon's toll of office. Holy communion was then administered in which, for the first time, Rev. Dorn took his part. At the evening service Rev. Dorn delivered the sermon and at this service the other churches of the city united. The sermon was very interesting and instructive.

Rev. Mr. Dorn leaves tomorrow for Lexington from which place the bishop will send him as missionary of the diocese.

FRIERS ARE NOT TO BE ASSESSED

Through articles appearing in the newspapers Saturday, some have received the impression that frying chickens will be assessed under the new state law. It was explained Saturday by County Tax Commissioner Brady and County Clerk James Owens that such was not the case and that only fully grown chickens would be assessed. It was pointed out that the assessment on chickens in Kentucky would amount to but little under the present rate of taxation which is $1.10 per $100. A flock of 100 hens valued at fifty cents each under the present rate of taxation would cost the owner but 55 cents in taxes.

PROF. BRADNER WILL INSTRUCT TEACHERS

Although the County Teachers' Institute will not be held until the last week in August, Superintendent Turnipseed is already making plans for the week. Prof. J. W. This means that the teachers will have a very profitable week for Prof. Bradner is recognized as one of the best school men in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Knight and children and Mrs. Eva Knight of Sharpburg, attended the Chautauqua Sunday, being the guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Taulbee.

Mr. Franklin Slye has returned to his work at the First-Standard Bank after a two weeks' vacation spent at Louisville and Indianapolis.

AMERICA'S DEBT TO FRANCE

The glory which France has won and is still winning in this great war for human liberty, as luminous as it is, cannot obliterate the achievements of some of her sons in other wars no can it cause grateful Americans to forget the debt of gratitude which they owed to France before this bloody contest was begun.

In an old book, now out of print, entitled "The Heroes of the Revolution," is found an account of an interview between the Marquis de Lafayette and Benjamin Franklin, then the American Commissioner to France.

Lafayette, in common with many other brilliant young Frenchmen of noble blood was deeply interested in the struggling colonies, and he indicated to Franklin his purpose to offer his sword to the revolutionists across the seas. Franklin sought to dissuade the gallant Frenchman, describing to him the then almost hopeless situation of the American army. Lafayette's reply was typical of the magnificent spirit of his countrymen of this city.

"The more hopeless your cause," said he, "the more occasion is there for my assistance, the more honor shall I acquire by bestowing it."

Another speech made by Lafayette which must have made a profound impression upon the patriots of colonial days was when he presented himself to the American Congress then in session at Philadelphia and tendered his services to the youthful nation.

"I am come," said he, "to request two favors of this assemblage of patriots. One is that I may serve in your army; the other, that I receive no pay."

May we not indulge the hope, if not the absolute belief, that the spirit of the generous and chivalrous Marquis de Lafayette can now loom down upon the battle fields of his beloved country and see with joy the blood and treasure which America is pouring out so freely in the joint struggle which the men in blue and the men in khaki are making to preserve those ideals for which the warriors of '76 gave so generously of their lives and their substance.

THEY DIDN'T BELIEVE IT

Three years ago when Von Tirpitz and the other Prussian monsters, the Kaiser included, were plotting the destruction of the Lusitania, they did not believe that America would fight.

Month after month while they defied the United States, flaunting insult after insult into the face of official Washington, they did not believe that America would fight.

Finally, when the declaration of ruthless submarine warfare proved the last straw that broke the already slender thread of American patience, and the United States declared war, the Prussians believed that it was all a perfunctory show; that American plutocrats would lend their money to the Allied governments; that the American farmer would sell them his food products for fat prices; that the American navy might send some of its units to the support of the Allied naval forces, but that nothing further would come of American participation.

It is the refinement of irony that in the final stage of the war America should step in to be the deciding factor; America, the land and the people that the Huns despised for supposed cowardice and inertia, should prove the power destined in the end to crush the vaunting autoerats of Europe and enthrone democracy throughout the world.

Germany didn't believe America would fight Germany didn't believe American troops by the million would be sent to France to humble her proud princes and establish a new social order.

But Germany's hour of awakening approaches. And that hour will also be the hour of her doom.

SOCIALISM IN ACTION VS. SOCIALISM IN THEORY

The Russian variety of the forty seven brands of socialists has, by its persecutions, sent to his grave the founder of social democracy in Russia, George Pickanoff. During his last illness pickanoff, because of his opposition to the bolsheviks, was terrorized by the soldiery of the red "republic." His house was broken into and he was threatened and otherwise mistreated. Your typical radical is a tyrant in embryo. He cries out against tyranny until he gets a chance to practice it; then he is the most violent of all tyrants. Socialism means the enslavement of the citizen to the state, and most of the socialist revolutionaries expect to exercise the power of life and death over the individual contemplated by political control of industry and employment. We have had a fine working example of left wing socialism in Russian. The people are under the iron heel of a tyranny unexampled in history. Life and property alike are worthless. The nation has been betrayed into the hands of a foreign foe. The treaty obligations, the debts, the promises, of the nation have been repudiated. The territory of Russia has been divided. Russia has been ruined by the socialists, ruined financially, physically, morally. And our boys on the west front must help pay the penalty in blood for the base bolshevik betrayal of a great nation.

PREACHING VS. PRACTICING DEMOCRACY IN SOME STATES

Speaking of the difference between Democracy with a big "D" and democracy with a small "d", the Republican state of Illinois casts more votes at the ballot box than the states of the whole solid south combined: Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Virginia, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma combined. And these states have five times as much representation in the electoral college as Illinois has. After the war is over, we have a big job ahead of introducing democracy into some portions of the United States, portions which have set themselves up, too, for some queer reason, as instructors in democracy to the rest of us.

CONDITIONS OF CROPS ARE ENCOURAGING

Harvest Practically Complete and the most of the Tobacco Crop is Now Planted in This Section.

Crop conditions throughout North-eastern Kentucky and Southern Ohio were never much better at this season than they are this year according to reports from all over the district.

Harvesting is now about completed with only a few scattering fields of grain standing. The grain is said to be very heavy with only a small amount of smut. Weather conditions have been good for the harvest and although there has been a marked shortage in labor, the seriousness of the situation has been overcome through co-operation of the farmers and in some sections of the state through the volunteering of citizens who have gone out in large numbers to spend one day in the harvest field. The harvest in this section of the state was not heavy enough to require the assistance of any great number of city people but during tobacco housing time it has been suggested that the business men "lend a hand" toward housing the big crop.

Much Weed Planted
The splendid tobacco season of this week gave the farmers of this section an opportunity to re-set their crop and to get out the few patches which had been held back. It is not thought that there is now any ground plowed for tobacco that has not been set.

In most sections plants were plentiful and of a strong, stocky sort insuring quick growth.

Gardens have been suffering for rain while the most of the early potatoes have practically failed in this section. The rains of this week have given the gardens another push forward, however, and it is predicted that beans will soon develop in large quantities.

Good Corn Crop
Corn throughout this section has been looking fine and only a few warm and sunny days days are needed to push the crop forward. Much re-planting was necessary for although the most of the farmers purchased old corn at high prices for seed there was much of it that did not come up. The replanting, however, is going nicely and at present all indications point to a much better corn crop than last season.

Hay Is Good
Hay is better in Mason and adjoining counties than was expected and the next big rush on the farms here will be in the hay harvest. This is one of the best clover years the farmers have seen in a long time and while there is an abundance of white top in the meadows, the hay crop will be much above the ordinary in cleanliness. Timothy has done well in some parts of this district while in others it has been almost a failure. Clover is a big crop in all sections however, and other hays crops are good.

OVER SUPPLY OF BARLEY ON HAND

Washington, June 30.—A new situation has developed in the national fight for radical prohibition. The change in conditions started when Food Administrator Hoover called a halt to the propaganda stating that the brewers were using grain that was needed for food.

Hoover said this was not so and in proof he pulled a big sheet of statistics the Department of Agriculture had worked out tending to show an oversupply of barley piling up in the elevators of the country and that unless barley was used for brewing it probably would not be used at all.

Barley was recently quoted at Chicago at $1.365 a bushel, the lowest it has been since December 1, 1917. The visible supply of barley reported in the United States at the principal points of accumulation and on lakes and canals was 3,376,000 bushels, an increase over last year of 944,000 bushels.

The movement of barley last reported officially showed that the great bulk of the stored excess was in country elevators, the amount thus reported being 7,521,033 bushels as against 5,423,063 bushels in terminal elevators.

That the allies have cut down on their purchases is shown by official figures which reveal that while our European allies since July 1, 1917, purchased 20,336,585 bushels of barley, have purchased only 9,983,256 bushels in the fiscal year of 1918-17 (July 1 to July 1) and in the month of April, this year, only 3,336,585 bushels.

The amount of barley on farms, March 1, was reported to be about 43,404,000 bushels, which was over 20 percent of the 1917 crop, as against only a little over 18 per cent. of the 1916 crop which was on farms last year.

It has also been cited that the British have quite buying barley and it has been intimated that conditions might become more serious, especially since barley bread has not been a success, other wheat flour substitutes having been found much more satisfactory.

"It does appear to me," says Hoover, "that the losses in food are entirely secondary to the moral and physical dangers." If brewing were stopped, he says, beer would disappear in within one or two months and the whole country would be put on a whiskey, brandy and gin basis; the saloons would be left open and it would be much easier to get drunk on these strong liquors, with 40 to 50 per cent. alcohol, than on a comparatively harmless brew of 2 1/2 per cent. beer, while if brewing is permitted the excess barley now lying in elevators—mostly in the rural districts—could be used up and 30 per cent. of what was used could be used again as cattle food, thus enlarging the supply of milk, more and more, of which the Food Administrator has been urging the people to use. So there you are!

This is the Hoover idea and in his stand on the brewing question he is backed by the President, so in the fight now going on in Washington, the leaders are insisting that the prohibition question be fought on its own merits and not on the food basis, the truth of which the present Food Administrator has officially disclaimed.

WORK OR FIGHT ORDER TO MAKE LITTLE CHANGE

Government's Reclassification Will Have Little Effect in Mason County Says Local Board.

In many sections of the country the recent order of Provost Marshal General Crowder that all men must be in productive work if they are military age or must be transferred to other draft classifications subject to earlier calls, will have but little effect upon the registered men of Mason county, according to a recent statement of members of the local board for Mason county.

It is pointed out that in Maysville and Mason county there are few men of draft age who are engaged in what has been specially labeled by the government authorities as non-productive employment and the most of these men have voluntarily changed their employment through patriotic impulses and before called upon by the authorities.

Very few men of draft age are employed in stores, restaurants, clerks, etc., within the jurisdiction of the Mason county board and as there are no saloons located here no men are affected by the specific clause against bartenders and porters.

There are, however, some classes of employment upon which the Provost Marshal General's office has not specifically ruled and upon which the local boards will be compelled to make individual rulings. The attitude of the local board for Mason county, while not officially stated by that body, seems to be identical with the attitude of other local boards over the country in interpreting the purpose of the government in the order, that so long as there are men in class one to fill the drafts upon the county, business not as in the least would be beneficial to the government in winning the war should not be interfered with.

It is a severe test of chivalry for a man to make a fool of himself just to please some woman.

Of course it may be different with her heart, but we doubt if any woman's skirt should let in the sunshine.

WEED CUTTING

Along Kentucky's Highways Must Be Cut By Property Owners—How About Those in This City?

At last, it seems, the weeds are to be cut along the public roads in Kentucky. An act of the Legislature provides that the owners of land abutting upon the county roads shall cut the weeds, trim limbs of trees, bushes or hedges which overhang the road and clean up any litter that is made by the mower, the scythe or the ax. Fiscal Court may—in fact must—order the property owners, controllers or managers, to clear the right of way. The work must be completed between the 1st of July and the 20th of August. Failure to comply with the law subjects the guilty to fines.

As long as the weed cutting was left to Fiscal Courts it was done with the irregularity which characterizes the functioning of such bodies. Now that the Fiscal Court may require the property owners to attend to it, and inasmuch as there always is a state of feeling between Fiscal Courts and property owners which is likely to cause the Fiscal Court to rejoice in an opportunity to coerce the property owners, the roadside weeds seem doomed to extinction through repeated annual mowing before maturity.

And now comes the question, how are we to get rid of the weeds in vacant lots and along the sidewalks in Maysville?

Certain it is the Board of Health sees them, and it is the Board's duty to compel the property owners to get rid of this nuisance. So why not get busy and have the work of our officials and our good ladies so recently done backed up with helpful places instead of weeds that foster disease the same as other filth?

Let's have the weeds harvested before Chautauqua opens and keep them down after it closes.

LETTER OF THANKS

From a Soldier Boy Who Passed Through Here Last Week—Says Maysville the Only Town.

The following letter was received by The Ledger and it explains itself: Camp Stewart, Newport News, Va., June 26, 1918.

The Public Ledger:
I wish to thank the good people of my home for the way we were treated Saturday. Maysville is the best town along the C. & O. railroad. Every soldier spoke well of my home. We passed through a lot of towns and cities but Maysville gave us the best welcome. I wish you would thank every one who met the train with a welcome hand. Everybody was more than pleased. The weather is fine here. Look for me when it is over over there. We are going after the Kaiser and must have him. Fifteen hundred of us left Camp Taylor Saturday and we arrived here in good health.

Going to the front,
GEORGE F. LEE.

DOCTORS FAILED TO HELP

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed the Cause of this Woman's Illness.

Worcester, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a weakness and pain which used to keep me in bed for two days each month. I tried many doctors without benefit until I was really discouraged. My mother urged me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had helped her so much. I did so and soon saw a change for the better. I kept on taking it and am now so well and strong that I can do all my housework, even my washing and I have a little baby who is as healthy as I could ask—thanks to your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. F. Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, says: "During the time when we send our young men to the trenches to live a life that grills flesh and nerve, let every man, woman and child who is privileged to remain in free America in physical safety count it a freeman's duty to eat simple food and conserve for our Army and our allies, to wear simple clothes, to avoid unnecessary or unwise expenditures, that we may give to our fighting men and the Government and have resources for the constructive work of the country."

Frank A. Vanderbilt, chairman of the National War Savings Committee and president of the National City Bank of New York, says: "Everybody should buy less, consume less, save more money, and loan their savings to the Government. The result will be more money for the Government to run the war, increased accumulation of savings by the people at good interest and absolute security, and less drain on the country's productive and industrial resources."

Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale University, says: "Those of us who are left at home must increase our production and lessen our consumption in order to have men and supplies available for fighting. We must reduce our consumption to a war basis. We must abstain from unnecessary expenditures in the way of comforts and services."

Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and now a member of the Advisory Commission of the Council of National Defense, says: "Saving by everyone is as imperative for the winning of this war as the mobilizing of armies; more than that, the mobilizing of armies is entirely futile if this military step is not accompanied by the rigorous, common sense saving of the Nation, for without saving the marshaled hosts can not be equipped, can not be fed, can not be carried overseas, and can not be put into the fight. We can finance the enormous cost of this war by spending only for the things we need, not by spending for the things we desire. Just so long as we continue to spend for things we do not need, just that long do we prolong the war and add to the tremendous sacrifice of life and property."

Here is the testimony of the President of the United States, of the Secretary of the Treasury, of the country's most prominent labor man, of a banker, of the president of one of the foremost educational institutions, and of a merchant. And the burden of their testimony is that it is the duty of everyone to save to the utmost that there may be more money, labor, and materials for the Government with which to fight the war. It is unusual to find such agreement from so many different quarters.

WAR TIME POLICY IN ROAD BUILDING DESCRIBED

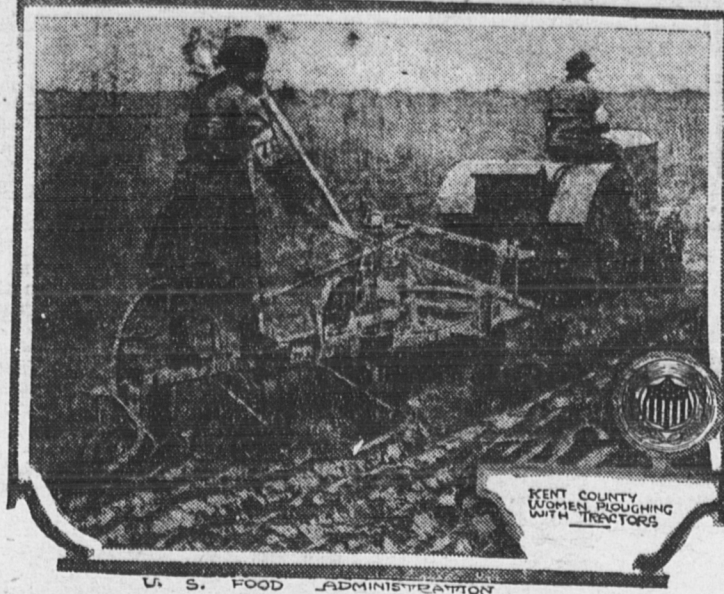

Washington, June 30—Governmental agencies dealing with highway problems fully recognize the vital military and economic importance of the country's roads, according to a letter from Secretary of Agriculture Houston to Arthur H. Fleming, Chief of the State Councils Section, Council of National Defense.

The Secretary, whose department administers the Federal Aid Road Act, stated also that the Government recognizes that it is necessary to construct, reconstruct or maintain roads essential for military and vital economic purposes and to defer action on roads not of this class; and that it is desirable, wherever possible, to use local materials for road building and maintenance in order to relieve railroad traffic.

Important highways, as described in the Secretary's letter, include only those utilized, or to be utilized, by the military establishment, those which carry a considerable volume of materials and supplies essential to war industries, and those which have a bearing on the production and distribution of food supplies, connecting population and shipping centers with surrounding agricultural areas.

Duties of Highway Council.
Attention is called to the formation of the United States Highways Council. This body was suggested by the Secretary to coordinate Federal agencies interested in highway problems.

English Women guaranteeing next Year's Food Supply

The council is made up of a representative each from the Department of Agriculture, the War Department, the Railroad Administration, the Fuel Administration and the War Industries Boards. It will form a unified agency for dealing, on behalf of the Federal Government, with highway construction, maintenance and policies. It will, of course, through the Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering of the Department, continue the close contact already established, both formally by law and informally by practice, with the State highway commission in each State.

The Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering and the Highways Council will actively consider the supply, for highway purposes, or road oils, asphalt and other bituminous road materials controlled by the Fuel Administration, and the matter of priority production for highway materials controlled by the War Industries Board. They will also, in contact with the Railroad Administration, aid in securing, so far as practicable, facilities for the transportation of road materials and supplies. Furthermore, the Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering will act as the medium for furnishing information and assistance on highway problems, especially to State Highway authorities in meeting the various difficulties which they encounter.

Work Planned Before War
When the United States entered the war the work of planning State highway systems, so that, as far as necessary and feasible, they would connect with the systems of other States, was well under way. This resulted from efforts to administer the Federal Aid Road Act, so that the roads of vital importance for economic, military and other purposes should first be dealt with. The Federal Aid Board Act—involving an aggregate five-year expenditure, directly from State and local funds, of $160,000,000 in addition to at least $200,000,000 spent independently each year by the States—provides that the States must maintain the roads and that before any money can be expended the roads must be selected and approved and plans, specifications and contracts submitted. It also provides that the Federal Government must inspect the construction of the roads.

War Road Policy Adopted
Soon after the United States entered the war, the Department of Agriculture requested the State Highway Commissions to join it in directing expenditures only on roads of prime importance for economic and military purposes. In this undertaking, the Secretary says, the department has received the co-operation of State authorities.

The department has been actively co-operating with the Capital Issues Committee in its task of keeping out of the market bonds the issuance of which was not urged from the point of view of aiding the Nation in winning the war.

The Secretary also calls attention to the fact that road engineers have been provided by the department for each of the army cantonments and for work on roads elsewhere in which military authorities were interested.

No, Maude, dear; we wouldn't advise you to go to a foundry for things that are lost.

It's the every-day sort of fellow who can be depended upon to take care of the nights.

"SUNDAES" MAY VANISH

New Sugar Ruling For July 1 Will Hit Hard Soda Fountains and Candy Makers.

Soda fountain proprietors, candy manufacturers and other large "non-essential" users of sugar are anxiously and watchfully waiting the advent of July 1, when new orders by the Federal Food Administration relative to the future distribution of the sweet saccharine substance will be issued.

At present these businesses and manufacturing concerns are allowed to use but 80 per cent. of their normal requirement of sugar, and though there has been no definite announcement on which to forecast the effect of the anticipated ruling next month, it is generally believed that far greater restrictions will be placed against the nonessentials.

Proprietors of soda fountains exhibit varying shades of apprehension affected by the new ruling.

That fountains will be "Sundaes" during the remainder of the war, if the sugar restriction is made greater and not amended at any time, is the opinion of several leading caterers. This does not mean that the soft drink emporiums will be forced to close, but that the refreshing dish of ice cream which becomes a "Sundae" when fruit or flavor syrups are added will be superseded by plain ice cream and nothing else, unless fresh fruit is added. This is because of the fact that a great amount of sugar is necessary in making the flavoring syrups. In some States the State food administrators already have ruled against the use of sugar syrups on ice cream.

The highly-respected ice cream soda is not likely to vanish, however, unless the new regulations are such as to place great restrictions on the manufacture of ice cream. Very little syrup is used in this connection, as carbonated water enters largely into the making of this food-drink.

Candy manufacturers generally believe that the supply of sugar available for use will be considerably cut by the ruling to be made July 1.

MANY FARMERS REACHED BY COUNTY AGENTS

The war emergency brought a great increase in the number of farmers, farm women, and boys and girls instructed by county agents of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural college in problems of greater food production and conservation.

According to reports to the Office of Extension Work South, of the States Relations Service, 363,723 farmers in the Southern States were reached during 1917 with definite demonstrations in the growing of crops, raising

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Ills of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers. Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Maysville testimony is proof of their effectiveness.

Mrs. Harry Mann, 495 W. Second St., says: "I was two years ago, I suffered from an attack of kidney trouble that had lasted for a long time. I had a dull, constant ache in the small of my back and the pains were often sharp. I was also dizzy and felt tired and languid. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and I haven't been bothered by kidney trouble since. I gladly advise anyone to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Chenoweth Drug Co., if troubled by their kidneys."

Mrs. Mann is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Mann had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. and feeding of live stock, marketing and other problems. The number of acres covered by the crop demonstrations alone in 1917 was 2,857,485. In addition to these a conservative estimate of the number of farms directly reached by the county agents in 1917 is 1,650,000. The figures represent about 60 per cent of all farms in the South.

Agents are giving advice and help in one way or another to nearly everyone with whom they come in contact, and the direct and indirect influence of the county agents' work and the proportion of the farmers reached is thought to be much higher than the figures given.

COUNTY AGENTS HELPING TO WIN WAR

The county agents and home-demonstration workers employed in the Southern States are not only instructing farmers and farm women in food production and conservation, but are assisting in other essential war work. They are not only working for the Department of Agriculture but are assisting the Food Administration, the Treasury Department, the War Department, the Navy Department, the Department of Justice, and the Department of Labor.

They have taken part, in addition to their regular activities, in such work as food surveys, seed surveys, seed distribution, obtaining credit for farmers, selling Liberty Bonds, eradication of live-stock diseases, surveys of live-stock diseases, surveys of insects pests and campaigns for their destruction, marketing farm products, preferential of priority shipments by rail of farm products and all farm supplies, and dissemination of information given out by the War Department, the Council of National Defense, and the Committee on Public Information regarding the war, and other matters affecting the national policy under war conditions.

ITALIANS AND FRENCH MAKE MORE ADVANCES

Austrian Line Penetrated and French Advance 800 Yards — Americans Expecting New German Attack.

Rome, June 30.—Italian forces supported by allied troops attacked Austro-Hungarian positions on the Italian mountain front Saturday and captured Monte Di Val Bella after a bitter struggle. The Italian war office announced that more than 800 Austro-Hungarians were taken prisoner.

Strong enemy counter attacks throughout the day and night were repulsed by the fire of the Italian infantry, artillery and machine guns.

French Advance
Paris, June 30.—French troops late last night attacked the German lines northwest of Chateau Thierry on the Marne front, and captured the crest of the ridge between Mosloy and Passy-en-Valois. The French war office statement announced that the French advanced their lines for a distance of 800 yards on a front of nearly two miles. Prisoners of the number of 265 were taken.

The text of the statement reads: "The French executed a number of raids last night, notably west of Hamard and south of Autrech, and took prisoners."

"South of the Oureq, French troops in the course of a local operation captured last night at 10 o'clock the crest situated between Mosloy and Passy-en-Valois. Our troops realized an advance of 800 yards on a front of 1.8 miles. The French took 265 prisoners, including three officers."

"In the Vosges the French repulsed a German raiding detachment."

Americans Expect Early Attack
With the American Forces on the Marne, June 30.—Excessive moves of troops and materials northwest of Chateau-Thierry, together with the increased artillery and aerial activity, form the base of the belief that the American forces in this locality may be called upon to defend themselves in the near future.

Long streams of enemy troops and wagon trains have been observed in the neighborhood of the Boney wood there have been more than fifty aerial flights over the American lines northwest of Chateau-Thierry in the last twenty-four hours. One German machine was shot down by our anti-aircraft guns.

It is expected that the fact that Irvin Cobb is the author of this play will draw a large audience today.

Today is July Court Day in Mason county and it is expected that there will be a large number of farmers gather here for the day to transact business and to talk over the conditions of crops in all parts of the county. The most of the tobacco setting is now out of the way and the program for today will be especially attractive to the farmers. Dunbar's Royal Dragons will furnish music on today's program.
